

SWCC's PRESIDENT'S PICNIC

An enjoyable time was had by all who attended our first Southwest Corvette President's Picnic at Victor Park in Torrance. Our wonderful chairman for the Picnic committee, JoAnn Miyamoto, selected a site with the needs of our group in mind. The Miyamotos along with Nancy Foreman did the set-up in a fully tree-shaded area close to parking and other amenities. The Southwest Corvette Club kept up the reputation as the "eating club" and provided plenty of food for all.

An interesting set of prints depicting the history of the Chrysler from its first automobile to the present were shared by Dennis. Just a bit of trivia for you is that Dennis Lombardo, our president, did at one time, own a Chrysler dealership!

These prints were not all that became a point of interest. Harry Potter's game of "Quidditch" was being played in the large grassy area adjacent to our tables. No, we did not see anyone actually flying on a broomstick as the movie portrays, but we did see what has become a very popular and rough sport played on land! This was fun to watch.

Due to the success of this event, we are looking forward to the second annual picnic. June would be a good time for the event as our calendar is a busy one in the Fall. This was a new type of event for our club and a most enjoyable one! So be thinking ahead for our future picnic outing next year which will be in a location closer to Cerritos as most of our membership live in or around this area. (We are already working on that location!)
